

The Online Journal

The EJPRD has been available on line “unofficially” for a little time as we have been “ironing out” any wrinkles in gaining access for subscribers. I am pleased to announce that we are now “Officially on Line”!!

So what is on offer? The main features are as follows:

- Back issues of the journal (March 2006 issue) are available on the site
- Articles are available to be downloaded in pdf form
- Facility to subscribe online

The web address is www.ejprd.org and then things are simple!

For users who are members of partner societies online membership is available as part of your subscription to that organization. In this case you need to register an account as follows:

1. Press the Register Tab
2. Press Skip (unless you have already registered)
3. Register
4. email support@dbgp.co.uk stating your membership number/affiliation and the email address of the account that has just been registered in order for authorisation of the account –
5. Once authorised
6. Log on using your email address and your newly created password

At this point you can then Review your account or simply click on to the “red tab” titled “Browse Journals”. This will take you to a list of the issues back to March 2006 – simply click on the issue number to open that issue of the Journal

Clicking on each of the article titles or the “eye” symbol will then open the article in a new browser for you.

Any new user (who does not currently subscribe directly or through an organisation) can pay for a subscription directly on the site and access is granted immediately. Once online payment completes the users account is automatically granted access to the journal since this does not require back office authorisation.

If you subscribe through an organisation then every user can have access to everything electronically. If you are subscribing directly then you have a choice of print only, online only or print and online together.

If you find any problems or if you require any assistance with registration or need to contact technical support, please email support@dbgp.co.uk

Happy browsing!!
